BOOKWEEK

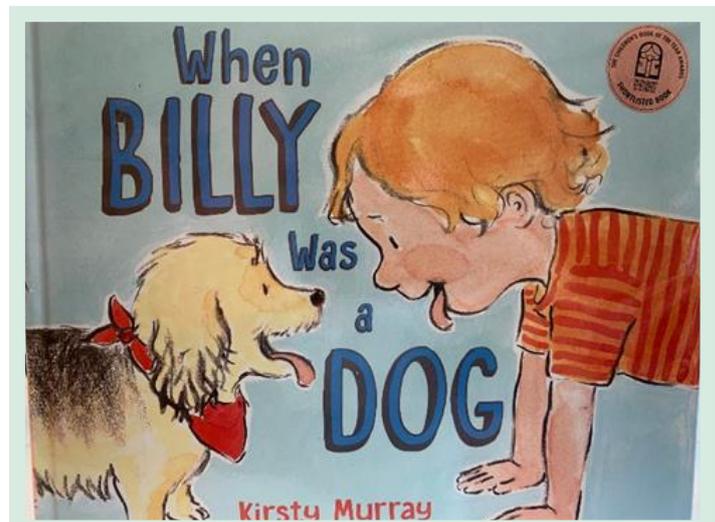

This day is always a highlight of the Greenhills calendar and even though we couldn't run the whole school parade – well done to teachers, students and parents / carers alike for getting involved to ensure it was still such a special day.

The Theme for Book Week in 2020 is "Curious Creatures, Wild Minds. Celebrating Book week is a fun way to enjoy and promote a love of reading and for me, these types of activities and events are what school is all about.

Congratulations to all of the winners of the 2020 Children's Book Council of Australia Awards. The CBCA presents annual awards to books of literary merit, for outstanding contribution to Australian children's literature. These books were displayed in our school library.

My favourite is "When Billy Was A Dog" by Kirsty Murray, especially because we have a new puppy in the Penson house.

Greenhills Primary School is a GREAT reading school and we always strive to become even better. Our reading data is improving all the time, we have great teachers, a superb Library and of course a strong level of parent support for reading for pleasure at home.

So how do we keep improving and become an even better reading school?

At school, we will keep investing in both our Library and classroom reading corners. Our belief is that you can't enjoy reading from a screen as much as getting a real book into your hands. We love that our students have access to books everywhere across our school and under Janine and my watch this will always be the case.

We also have dedicated reading time where students can sit and enjoy a book. At the moment this is also happening each morning as students enter with a staggered start each day.

At home, you can assist your child to find an extra 10 minutes a day to read. It might be as simple as 10 minutes less on technology or reading for 10 minutes before dinner. We know that you can become better at something if you focus on it more. Reading becomes easier and more enjoyable the more you do it! If you need some motivation have a think about this: If your child currently reads for just 1 minute a day, they will read 21,000 words this year. Increasing this by 10 minutes a day will lead to 321,000 words being read in a year. It also works for those students that are already reading for the suggested 15 minutes a day. Currently these readers would be churning through 1.8 million words a year. Ten minutes more would take this to over 2.7 million!

Help your child to choose different types of books to read and also take turns to read with them. Talk about the book and look for words to pay special attention too. Most importantly, make the experience as fun and engaging as possible.

iPads

One of the GREAT things about our school is the high level of parent involvement and input in our school. We really value this and never take it for granted. In recent weeks we have been gathering lots of feedback around our plans to potentially expand our current 1:1 iPad program beyond just Years 5 & 6. I have really enjoyed the passion being shared around this topic and thank those who have sent in emails with their thoughts, questions and comments. We have endeavoured to contact everyone who has sent through feedback and will continue to do so as we receive it.

Unfortunately I have also had reports of lobbying and pressure being applied to some parents around this issue as well. As a school we will listen to all feedback, not only the loudest voices. Just like our classrooms, every voice is important to be heard. On behalf of our School Council and community, I apologise if you have been approached in this way and have been made to feel uncomfortable. This behaviour which has also been seen on the unofficial Greenhills Facebook page needs to be called out. It sits well outside the values that our school operates by and does not represent what our GREAT school community is about.

Our communication and information processes also continue. The next important part of this is our iPad information night. One of the silver linings out of this year is that our staff team have been able to share with parents /carers more about learning at Greenhills than ever before. Our information night will be another opportunity to hear about how our existing iPad program runs. Each day at our school we see the power and potential of having a quality teacher using technology such as iPads to provide a learning environment that we would all be very proud to have our children engaged in. Our staff have extensive knowledge and skills which is backed up by a school system that enables students to experience learning that supports, stimulates, challenges and extends. Our information night will provide you with a deeper insight into this and we are excited to be able to share some more of this with you.

There are not many guarantee's in life but I can say that you will leave the session better more accurately informed about what we already do right across the school and in particular what we currently do in Years 5 & 6. You will also leave knowing that any extension of our 1:1 program will not change our overall approach, how our school operates each day and what is special about our school.

All students Prep – Year 6 will still read actual books, write with actual pen and pencils in actual exercise books each and every day. Screen time will not explode - rather our aim is to increase accessibility and flexibility to see students use technology for shorter and sharper periods in the day for learning at exactly the time they need it.

I look forward to seeing lots of families log into Webex on Wednesday. Given the large number of attendees, we would appreciate any questions you would specifically like covered to be sent through to me prior to the night.

Prep Information Night – Thank you

Each week is a busy week at our school. Last night we held our 2021 Prep Information night. Thank you to our current prep team Betty Hajichristou, Bonnie Jones and Samantha Marmo for organising and presenting and thank you also to Janine Hough, Victoria Harris and Irina Fainberg for attending and presenting as well.

We are very excited to have over 80 preps starting school next year and over the next few weeks we will be contacting all of our prep families to follow up from the session. Our Experience Greenhills program continues as well. These are weekly links to videos introducing our specialist team. We are very hopeful of being able to host some on-site visits in small groups in the not too distant future and will keep you updated as soon as permission for this to occur has been given.

Our Transition program for 2020 into 2021 has needed to be organised and delivered in a different way. Even our school tours have had to be via Webex this year. The GREAT news is that nothing has or will stop us having everything in place for a smoothest start possible to 2021.

FINAL REMINDER FOR PARENT REQUEST PROCESS FOR TRANSITION INTO 2021

Our team are now well embedded in the process of finalising our school structure for 2021. Considerations around the social, emotional, academic and physical needs of each of our students will form part of this process. This is a final reminder that parents are able to make requests for consideration when placing their child into their 2021 class. These requests will only be accepted in writing (including email) and must be received by Monday 26th October. Please note that requests with respect to specific teachers will not be considered.

JSC NEWSBREAK

Snakes

Last week there was a snake found near the Tiger Turf and students were not allowed to go that way because there was a snake catcher trying to catch the snake. The snake was caught on the day after school times. Make sure you have a 'snake safety' chat with your family.

Hygiene with Covid 19

As you know with Covid-19, we have to make sure we are being safe, which means make sure when you come into the classroom at the start of the day, and after lunch and snack play, you put on hand sanitiser. In the classroom and outside, try not to touch your friends just to keep safe and stay in your play area which your teacher gives you at the start of each day. Finally if you don't feel well make sure you stay home and stay safe.

Reminders

Remember that it is Italian Day in a few weeks so you will need to pick your costume I know Italian's favourite sports are Soccer and Cycling so you could dress up like a soccer player or a cyclist or you could simply dress up as an iconic feature of Italy like it's food or landmarks or even the Italian flag colours. Another reminder is to bring your hats and drink bottles if you do not have a Greenhills hat you must go purchase one from the office and if you do not have a drink bottle then I suggest go buy one because the hot weather season is starting and you need to stay hydrated.

Thanks Greenhills!

3 / 4 High Ability Reading Group

In the last couple of terms, 8 students from 3/4 were chosen to join a reading extension group. The first step was to choose a book. We all agreed on “The Secret Keepers” by Trenton Lee Stewart. Each week, we came to a meeting with open questions, discussion prompts and theories about the book we were reading. We all asked each other open questions and shared our thoughts on what we had read.

Here are some quotes from the members of the group:

“It very much helped me with my reading comprehension and I liked it.” - Luca G 3/4R

“It helped me learn more complicated words and we could get ideas from each other.” - Angela Z 3/4B

“I liked the book because it was descriptive and interesting. I learnt how to ask more interesting questions and I’ve learnt new words.” - Ella N 3/4D

“The group helped me understand what I’m reading more. I liked how we could bounce ideas off each other.” - Marlowe P 3/4B

“I liked how it was everyone’s choice. I’ve learnt new words and I liked working with more people.” - Senna V 3/4D

“It helps me with my understanding of reading. When you ask questions you understand the book more and it was fun to talk about the book like that, I’ve never done anything like that before.” - Oli B 3/4B

Now that we have completed the book each member of the group has become a leader mentoring their own book clubs with other 3/4 and Grade 2 students. We are hoping to extend their knowledge and help them improve their reading skills.

VISUAL ART ROOM SMOCK REMINDER

Dear Parents & Carers

We are very excited about returning to school and being back in the art room. All levels are working on activities involving paint this term and there are still a number of students in each class without smocks. Given that the spare smocks can only be worn once this is leading a large amount of additional washing,

We realise that purchasing a smock at this time is difficult however, if you have one at home that hasn't been sent to school, can you please do so straight away.

Thanks for your support.

Kind Regards

Andrea Williams & Sarah Leach

Parent Partnerships Preventing Parent Burnout

by Michael Grose

The longevity of the COVID pandemic is an enormous challenge to many of us. Our capacity to adapt to acutely stressful situations such as natural disasters has been severely depleted by the long-term nature of the pandemic. Our surge capacity, an adaptation mechanism that helps us survive short-term difficulties, is not designed to get us through long-term disasters such as the pandemic.

There is no handbook for functioning in a pandemic however, it is apparent that we need to accept that life will probably be different for some time. Putting in place strategies that maintain our personal wellbeing is now a priority. Ironically, many of us are denied self-care activities because of the pandemic. For many people coffee with friends, a massage or a visit to the gym are the types of self-care activities that are now out of reach, so flexibility and resourcefulness is needed.

Here are some researched-based strategies to practise at home that will help develop feelings of equilibrium and calm.

Take some deep breaths

Benefits

Neuroscience shows us how breathing shifts the brain into different states. Short, sharp breaths send a message to the brain that we are moving, even though we may be sitting in a chair. Conversely, slow, rhythmic breathing tells the brain that we are calm and feeling good. It is the quickest way to engage the body's relaxation response.

Implementation tips

Make regular deep breathing part of your day. Choose a time of the day that suits you to practise and stick to it. Consider linking deep breathing to regular activity, such as, before the start of the day, during lunchtimes, or when you take a daily walk.

Create mindful moments

Benefits

The human mind is restless, wandering all over the place. This is exhausting, particularly for anxious personality types. Mindfulness is a simple way to make your wandering mind rest and settle into the present, closing the fight or flight response in our amygdala, the part of the brain, that plays an important role in emotion and behaviour.

Implementation tips

Mindfulness can be practised anywhere, anytime, such as when we are eating lunch, taking a walk or sitting in a chair at home. It can be done in short two to five minute sessions, which means it can be squeezed in between many regular commitments.

Get moving

Benefits

Exercise is a healthy way to improve mood, relieve tension and prepare for sleep. Endorphins, the feel-good chemicals that increase feelings of wellbeing, are released which explains why many people are hooked on running, walking and other forms of movement.

Implementation tips

Exercise can easily be set aside when life pressures mount, unless it is embedded in your lifestyle. A Penn State University study found that 30 minutes of exercise a day has a significantly measurable impact on a person's effectiveness and wellbeing. The study's founders recommend that people make use of hidden moments such as power walking from place to place, standing and moving around more, turning wait time into movement and stretching time, and getting up ten minutes earlier to exercise and set the movement tone for the day. Every person can do these simple measures regardless of how busy they are.

Find green

Benefits

Science supports the impact of green time on our mental health. Researchers have found a direct correlation between time spent in natural environments and a lowering of cortisol levels, the stress hormone that helps maintain our anxious states. The human brain is designed to cope with outdoor living, so it feels most comfortable in that environment.

Implementation tips

Visiting the bush or beach may be out for now but a daily walk in a park, garden, or backyard will bring similar wellbeing benefits. Bring some green inside with some indoor plants strategically placed at home. Regular green time is a wonderful natural remedy for anxiety and stress and a natural antidote for many of the mental health problems caused by increased screen time.

Closing

If you are already practising self-care then set aside any feelings of guilt and simply enjoy the calm it brings. If looking after yourself has never been a high priority then now is a great time to start. Begin with small steps – pick one or two activities and build from there. The key is to make these wellbeing treats habit-forming behaviours so that they become a regular part of your daily life.

All About The Bass

A couple of weeks ago, Greenhills OSHClub coordinator Megan bought in her very own bass guitar for the children attending during remote learning to enjoy. For many of the children, it was their first time playing the bass guitar, but many of them had seen or played a regular guitar in the past. The children learnt that on a bass guitar you only play one string at a time, compared to a regular guitar. Harper in Year 1 (pictured below) had a great time playing, however being left-handed had to play it upside down! He quickly adapted and was able to learn a simple tune. Vincent in Year 4 also enjoyed playing the bass guitar and mentioned how he would love to learn how to play in the future.

Fingers crossed we will be able to have more musical experiences like this in the future.

COORDINATOR'S CORNER

Staying COVID-Safe @ OSHClub

This year has presented everyone with new challenges, but with restrictions continuously easing it is important to remain COVID-safe. We want to ensure the health and safety of all children attending Before- and After-School Care and we have several processes in place to help maintain cleanliness. All children are required to wash their hands upon entering, sanitise their hands regularly, toys are cleaned daily and hard surfaces cleaned regularly. We ask that parents and guardians wait outside for their child(ren) to finish packing up, collect their bag, and be signed in/out by a team member. We appreciate your understanding.

QUALITY AREA REFLECTION

Children's health and safety

The health and safety of all children attending Greenhills OSHClub is of utmost importance to all team members. All permanent team members have First Aid training and update their CPR training annually.

Children attending Greenhills OSHClub with a medical condition must have the applicable forms or they will not be permitted to attend. Parents/Guardians of children with missing forms will be contacted by service coordinator Megan this week to have them completed as soon as possible.

SCIENCE FUN!

Watch me explodel!

Who doesn't love a chemical reaction? Harper and Isabelle in Year 1 and Sam in Foundation/Prep got to enact their very own salt dough volcanoes a couple of weeks ago. By simply mixing bleach, soda and red-dyed vinegar in the bottom of pre-formed and dried out volcano, each of them were able to make a brilliant chemical reaction and were fascinated by the foam volcano that erupted.

In the future, we will be undertaking many more science experiments like this! Book today or enquire in service to find out when these are happening!

POLICY CORNER

Hats @ OSHClub

Between September 1 and April 30, all children in Victoria must wear a hat when going outside to play and at OSHClub it's no different. We are asking parents and guardians to please ensure that your child has an appropriate hat with them when they attend After-School Care. We only have a few spare hats for children to use and to help limit the potential spread of headlice all children should use their own hat.

BOOKING @ OSHCLUB

Book In at Greenhills OSHClub for fun and games!

The fun never stops at Greenhills OSHClub regardless of coming to Before- or After-School Care. To join in the fun, please book in through the iParent Portal where you can make either casual or routine bookings. Bookings must be made 34 hours in advance of a session starting or you will be required to contact the service on 0437 905 183 or greenhills@oshclub.com.au to book your child(ren)'s place. Late bookings will incur a $4 late booking fee.

We hope to see you soon!
